Investments are generally measured by their potential for return. Humanity First is convinced that investing in our nation's children and improving their academic performance is the best investment a community can make. A good student today is better positioned to become a successful participant in society tomorrow. We work in partnership with local communities to provide critical materials and services to schools and students who are motivated to succeed. Some areas of service include: Library Books, Teaching Materials, Academic Awards and Providing Preventive Healthcare Services.

In our effort to ease the suffering caused by natural disasters and human conflict, Humanity First has created a Disaster Relief team comprised of volunteer doctors and engineers who travel around the globe. We provide emergency assistance to those in need, in the form of:

- Setting up Medical Camps
- Emergency Transportation Services
- Food & Clothing Distribution
- Fixed and Mobile Feeding Stations

In all cases, support is provided on the basis of need, and without prejudice of race, religion, colour or political allegiance.

The Feed A Family program provides a full week's supply of non-perishable groceries to those families in need. Humanity First volunteers organize food drives and run a food bank located in Vaughan, Ontario to support this initiative in Canada. Similar projects are currently operational in various other countries around the world such as Gambia, Burkina Faso and Sierra Leone.

Humanity First is committed to helping assist poorer nations in their fight against illiteracy. This program is operational in East Africa, West Africa and South America. Through our sponsorship scheme, we encourage the further education of thousands of secondary school, post-secondary and graduate students by providing them with funds to help cover the cost of tuition, books, uniforms, and much more.

The poverty cycle is perpetuated when poorer communities lack educational training, and in turn, have limited earning potential. This cycle leads to malnutrition, and social problems. Humanity First, in an effort to alleviate this crisis, has opened several vocational training centres in Burkina Faso, Sierra Leone, Binin, Ghana and Gambia. These centres provide basic and advanced computer training. Programs such as garment design and tailoring have also been specifically designed for women. As a result, many students have successfully found employment in their field.

Large populations in developing countries do not have access to clean water. As a result, hundreds of people die each day from water-borne diseases. Humanity First has stepped in to provide water pumps and wells in the remote villages of many African nations. The establishment of just one water pump can benefit approximately 400 people. Such water pumps make life easier for people who would otherwise carry heavy loads of water across long distances.
